THE CITY TODAY

Springfield, Massachusetts was settled in 1636, as a result of the efforts of William Pynchon and a band of faithful followers who sought the fertile valleys in this part of the country, for homesteading purposes. It was made a town May 14, 1636, O.S., and incorporated a city May 25, 1852.

The city has grown to a community having a population of 149,642. Springfield is 99 miles from Boston; 103 miles from Albany, New York, and 135 miles from New York City. Immediately surrounding Springfield are numerous smaller towns and cities, including among the first, West Springfield, Longmeadow, East Longmeadow, Wilbraham and Ludlow, and among the latter, Chicopee.

Springfield has, since the last part of the eighteenth century, been continuously developing as a manufacturing center, although surrounded by communities agricultural in character. The industry of the community is of varied quality. The skill of workmen to be found here has developed the popularity of the community as an industrial section for the manufacture of many varied products. For the most part, raw materials and supplies are transported to the city. The location of the city nearly equidistant from the three large centers—Boston, Albany and New York—is an enviable one.

The rolling hills rising from the Connecticut River Valley provide for excellent residential sections.

The prevailing meteorological conditions give to Springfield typically New England seasons with charming summers and cold winters with some snow.

SERVICE INSTITUTIONS

Springfield is fortunate in having a group of public utility organizations which aid, and have for many years, in the development of the community. Under the municipality, there operates a Springfield Water Works the activities of which provide the community with excellent drinking water, piped to the city from the eastern foot-hills of the Berkshires. An excellent reservoir system practically doubling a previous capacity, and provides a maximum flow adequately to care for the city for many years to come.

The Springfield Gas Light Company produces gas for households at the rate of 74c for first 200 cu. ft., balance used at 11c per 100 cu. ft. For larger household users the minimum rate of $4.25 for first 3,500 cu. ft. and balance at 8c per 100 cu. ft. prevails. Industry is also served at varying rates. A net work of the piping of this corporation covers nearly the whole city, and is being rapidly extended.

The United Electric Light Company provides light and power on a combined flat rate and low energy charge.

Transportation facilities provided by the Springfield Street Railway Company afford excellent local and interurban transportation service. The rehabilitation of the rolling stock of this company and much of the roadbed has been completed, and the newest type of trolleys and busses are available for use.

Springfield has long been recognized as a community in which the educational facilities are of an unusually high standard. The public schools' program is most complete and leads the pupil through the primary grades and junior high schools into one of four high schools of excellent standing and character. In the first—the Classical High School the curriculum is of an essentially academic character, providing for the continuance of education in the academic colleges and universities. The second—the Technical High School—is fundamentally an engineering school and offers courses leading directly to industrial work or into the higher engineering colleges. The third—the High School of Commerce—prepares the pupil thoroughly for a business career and also for entering into a limited group of colleges. The fourth—the Springfield Trade School prepares the pupil for industrial employment.

Freight rates prevail for the shipment of raw materials and finished products into and from the city on a basis which permits our manufacturers to compete with others in similar lines in other parts of the country.

Springfield has dwelling units for 43,893 families and has long been known as a community of home lovers. The environment which has been created is a result of a mixed population, possessing many natural advantages and proving pleasing to all. There are many community civic organizations, each of which was definitely formed for the improvement of its part of the city.

CONSUMING POWER

Farm products valued at over $5,000,000 were raised in Hampden County in 1937 and consumed mostly in this area. $40,031,970 worth of stock and material was used in our factories in 1937. New England, of which Springfield is a part, is forced to import from outside all basic raw materials even to lumber and depends on its skilled labor and native ingenuity in fabrication to maintain its industrial supremacy. The normal consummation of a population of 149,642 is augumented by at least 100,000 to include traveling men, attendants at conventions, schools, etc.

INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

The latest available statistics in Springfield show 290 establishments making as many different lines, using material and stock valued at $40,031,970, paying wages of $24,121,710, employing 17,635 people and producing $95,956,839 worth of products. Many of these factories manufacture products known the world over and spread the fame of Springfield into all countries. Westinghouse Motors and Bosch Radios, Indian Motocycles, Smith & Wesson revolvers, Springfield rifle, Absorbine Junior liniment, Fiberloid products, and Milton Bradley games and toys are typical examples. Industry in Springfield is highly diversified though the manufacture of electrical goods and equipment slightly predominates in value all other lines. Skilled artisans can usually find steady employment in Springfield due to this condition.

Springfield is justly proud of its title, "The City of Homes," and well deserves it as there is a home for approximately every 3½ persons of population, and of those occupied about 30% are owned by the occupant. A recent survey showed that only 46 were classified as undesirable and the majority of these would normally rent for $20 a month or less. This condition is maintained partly by the fact that due to diversity of industry the labor demand is steady. Abundance of water power in the valley has caused erection of enormous hydro-electric stations with the result that reasonable electrical rates prevail and practically all homes enjoy the use of electricity with all its advantages.

FINANCIAL SITUATION

Though having one of the lowest municipal tax rates in Massachusetts, Springfield has been continuously developing without unduly burdening the public and has a total outstanding bonded indebtedness of but $17,757,000. Economy is the rule of Springfield's administration though large appropriations for permanent improvements are made yearly to keep pace with the schedule of the City Planning Board. Springfield has four commercial banks and trust companies and three savings banks. The total banking dept resources of Springfield banks are $185,130,074, with clearings for 1938 of $158,706,117. Due to its being so accessibly located, Springfield was chosen as the logical location for the establishment in New England of the district branch of The Federal Farm Loan System.

RETAIL TRADE

While Springfield has a population of but 149,642 people, its retailers serve a territory containing 500,000 population. The two main department stores of Springfield do an annual business in excess of $10,000,000. The large proportion of merchandise carried in Springfield is of a quality nature as there are no great number of the so-called poorer class in Springfield. Seventy-six per cent of its inhabitants are native born.

WHOLESALE TRADE

Springfield is served north, east, south and west by trunk line railroads and it has consequently become a well-known jobbing center. Stocks carried in Springfield cover practically every well-known product manufactured in the United States applicable to the northern climate and are distributed over a radius of more than 50 miles.

CIVICS AND WELFARE

Of outstanding value is the work done by the City Planning Board through whose efforts a definite arrangement for the control of the future growth and development of the city is projected and maintained.

Hospital facilities are more than complete, for the community is fortunate in possessing four hospitals caring for general cases, two hospitals maintained particularly for the care of maternity cases; and one hospital for diseases requiring isolation, erected by the city at a total cost of approximately $750,000. Beautifully modern, the new wing of the Springfield Hospital, erected at a cost of $2,500,000, was opened late in 1931. Springfield is fortunate also in being the home of the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children for the whole New England area. Medical and surgical treatment may be had from many physicians and surgeons of repute.

Health and sanitation are carefully guarded. Through our school system the health of the children is given more than adequate attention.

Springfield possesses every type of amusement and recreation offered in cities of its size —theaters, amusement parks, dancing salons, boating, canoeing, golfing, tennis—all of these are available. Supervised recreation for children is made possible through the very efficient work of the Springfield Park Department, through the agency of which are operated 71 public playgrounds, lands and parks covering more than 19 hundred acres.

Of outstanding importance is the Eastern States Exposition held annually in the third week of September on grounds owned by the Exposition, and bringing to the community upwards of three hundred thousand visitors seeking a display of latest agricultural equipment and other displays. Here is held the annual horse show, and to this exposition come the children from the ten eastern states to exhibit their handiwork. On these grounds, the states of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts have each erected buildings in which are to be found excellent displays indicative of the quality and character of these four States.

CITY AS A CENTER

Springfield is the center to which tourists come over excellent highways, and through which they pass enroute to Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, as well as to points of interest in Eastern Massachusetts.

Springfield is a trading center for a population estimated at 500,000. To the community are attracted these persons who seek adequate shopping facilities, excellent stores, fine restaurants and hotels.

The industrial prestige of the city has been developed as a result of the skill of its workers in mechanical trades. It is in a sense an agricultural base, for here are located the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange, the Hampden County Improvement League, and many other agencies working co-operatively for the development of agriculture throughout all of New England.

Springfield is the Western Gateway to New England, and, without question, the most easily accessible city in New England from points outside thereof. During 1938 37,347 persons attended 72 conventions held in the city of Springfield. The Springfield Chamber of Commerce operates a Convention & Visitors Bureau which actively solicits convention business and renders a maximum of co-operation to convention groups meeting in this city.

ADVANTAGES AND CLAIMS

In the last analysis, Springfield is the only city in the area between Boston, Albany and New York that has developed in a balanced way along the lines of beauty, education, finance, industry, mercantile and recreation. It is a community to which persons come to visit and remain to live and prosper.

CITY AS A SERVICE CENTER

The Springfield Chamber of Commerce for more than forty years has functioned in a capacity as a counsel and guide not only to citizens of the community, but to those from other cities seeking information or advice about the city. It is ready to co-operate in every practicable way to assure interested persons that they will receive adequate and reliable information concerning the community and its activities.

"What You Should Know About Your City"

"The helpful kind of patriotism is the kind that grows out of a knowledge of one's town, of her growth, her people, her property, her government, and her needs. This knowledge develops, first, an intelligent interest; then, a sympathy; then, a reasonable affection, a wise and temperate jealousy for her good name and a wish that she may prosper and grow more beautiful; and finally, a desire to help her to become greater and finer, a bright and clean workshop and a home for the best of men and women."—John Cotton Dana.

Reference Advertising

HE who buys space in the City Directory buys advertising permanency. Every day thousands of business men all over the country search its classified sections to find where nationally advertised goods may be purchased. City Directory ("Reference") Advertising is the completing girder in the bridge between dealer and consumer, and should be part of all national and local campaigns.

"OF THE PEOPLE FOR THE PEOPLE"
SINCE 1873
A GREAT CITY DIRECTORY ORGANIZATION SERVING
2,700,000 People in the most densely populated area in America
Annually, with a trained organization within these five states, serving one hundred and forty-one communities, each street and building is thoroughly canvassed for new names, changes and verification of prior information, after which by trained investigators, sections are again recanvassed to keep our name takers keyed up to a high degree of accuracy.
Through the process of sorting, compilation and still greater refining for accuracy, each name is handled twelve times as it becomes a part of the five departments when combined and printed into city directories, renders a service unsurpassed for those who know that without knowledge, activities become wasteful, confused and subject to duplication.

BUYERS' DIRECTORY

It's Practical Uses

To give permanence to paid-for publicity.

To detail more fully the products and service of industrial, commercial, financial and professional activities.

To form a quality background by the better use of type and paper.

To create a department of those in each community whose stability has built the foundation upon which progress has been attained. (The length of this advertising service automatically eliminates investments for space by those who question their ability to continue business activity.)

To safeguard the buyer by eliminating statements that mislead, or do not conform to business integrity.

Superfluous Hair Removed by Electrolysis

ABOUT 1875 Dr. Mitchell, oculist, of St. Louis, evolved a method of using electricity for the permanent removal of ingrowing eyelashes. Soon after, his friend, Dr. Hardaway, conceived the idea of using this method for the removal of Superfluous Hair from the human face. Today, physicians everywhere, recommend this method as the only sure way of obtaining permanent relief from this annoying condition.

For forty-eight years this office has employed this method—the method discovered by one, and employed by ALL dermatologists, the single electric needle process, in painlessly disposing of these disquieting blemishes for all time.

Information and demonstration treatment by appointment, without charge.

Is a good thing, isn't it? You would not think of doing business without it.

But it is only seen by those who pass your way.

If you could put a sign where everyone could see it would it interest you?

THE CITY DIRECTORY

Is where people look for you when they want to do business. You should make it easy for them to find you, by putting such information as a buyer wants, in the Directory properly indexed under all headings where he might look for you.

WHO'S WHO—AND WHERE?

SUCH questions can only be answered by the Directory and that is where people look when they want to buy. Are you properly displayed therein to get the business?

for COOKING

The New CP (means certified performance) Gas range gives you in a single cooking appliance all the basic improvements known to modern science. These improvements mean to you, in your kitchen, savings in time, food and fuel.

for REFRIGERATION

The Electrolux Gas refrigerator has no moving parts in its entire freezing system. That's why you get more years of low operating cost, more years of dependable service and silence for its entire lifetime.

for WATER HEATING

Hot water at the turn of a tap at exactly the right temperature, day or night, at low cost - - that's automatic hot water service with Gas.

for HOUSE HEATING

More and more small home owners in Springfield are installing Gas heating service. Why? - - - Because Gas is the only entirely automatic heat, its cost is comparable with other fuels, it is clean, it is entirely effortless.

The Mortality of Advertising

THE waste basket is the grave of millions of dollars worth of advertising every year. Keep your advertising out of the waste basket by using mediums that are not thrown away. The City Directory is on the job 365 days in the year and no level headed man will think of the waste basket and the City Directory at the same time.
